PARTIES: McMaster University (“University”)
1280 Main Street West
Hamilton, ON L8S 4L8

Company/Organization name (“Company”)
Company/organization address

DATE: March 12, 2019 (“Effective Date”)

In consideration of the mutual covenants set out in this Agreement and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged by each of the Parties, the Parties agree as follows:

1. DEFINITION OF CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

Confidential Information means any information disclosed by one party (the “Discloser”) to the other (the “Recipient”) relating directly or indirectly to Name of Technology/Project, file #, which is identified by the Discloser, either orally or in writing, as confidential, either at the time of disclosure or, if disclosed orally, confirmed in writing within ten (10) days following the original disclosure. Confidential Information also includes any notes, summaries, copies, analyses, photographs, electronic files, data extracts, or other materials prepared from or derived from such information by the Recipient.

2. EXCEPTIONS TO CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

This Agreement does not apply to information that:

i. was available to the public at the time of disclosure, or subsequently became available to the public without fault of Recipient;

ii. was known to Recipient at the time of disclosure or was independently developed by Recipient, provided there is adequate documentation to confirm such prior knowledge or independent development;

iii. was received by Recipient from a third party and Recipient was not aware that the third party had a duty of confidentiality to Discloser in respect of the information;

iv. is used or disclosed by Recipient with Discloser's prior written approval; or

v. is required to be disclosed by law, provided that Recipient gives Discloser sufficient prior written notice of any such disclosure, where legally permitted, to allow Discloser to contest the disclosure. Any action taken by Discloser to contest the disclosure must not compromise the obligations of Recipient under the order to disclose or cause Recipient to be subject to any fine, penalty, or prosecution. In any such case, Recipient shall disclose only that portion of the Confidential Information that is legally required.

3. DESIGNATED REPRESENTATIVES

Each party designates a representative for coordinating receipt, release, and delivery of Confidential Information, which for the University will be Name of Principal Investigator and/or Technology Transfer Office representative and for Company: Name of designated representative for company, or another individual or individuals as the party may designate in writing to the other party.

4. USE OF CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

Recipient may only use the Confidential Information for the purpose of type of purpose/or a research collaboration and not for any commercial purpose (the "Permitted Purpose"). Recipient must not use the Confidential Information for any other purpose without the prior written approval of Discloser. Without limiting the foregoing, Recipient shall not upload, submit, transmit, or otherwise disclose Confidential Information to any public generative AI system, public model-training platform, or publicly accessible collaboration or storage service without the prior written approval of Discloser.

5. NON-DISCLOSURE

Recipient must keep the Confidential Information in confidence. Recipient may only disclose the Confidential Information to its employees, directors, officers, agents, students, in the University's case, and consultants who have a strict need to know the Confidential Information for the Permitted Purpose, provided that they are advised of the confidential nature of the Confidential Information and are under an obligation to maintain its confidentiality on terms no less protective than those set out in this Agreement. Recipient must not otherwise disclose Confidential Information to any person or third party without the prior written approval of Discloser. Recipient shall also take reasonable steps to ensure that access to Confidential Information is revoked when such persons no longer require it for the Permitted Purpose.

6. STANDARD OF CARE

Recipient must use at least the same standard of care in protecting the confidentiality of the Confidential Information as it uses in protecting its own information of a similar nature and, in any event, no less than a reasonable standard of care. Recipient must notify Discloser in writing no later than one (1) business day after discovery that any Confidential Information has been accessed, acquired by, transmitted to, or disclosed to an unauthorized person, or otherwise compromised, and shall cooperate reasonably with Discloser to mitigate harm and prevent further unauthorized use or disclosure.

7. RETURN OF CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

If requested in writing by Discloser, Recipient must cease using, return to Discloser and/or destroy all Confidential Information and any copies of Confidential Information in its possession or control. Such return or destruction shall be completed within fifteen (15) days after written request. Recipient may retain one archival copy of such Confidential Information for the sole purpose of establishing the extent of the disclosure of such Confidential Information, provided that such information is not used by Recipient for any other purpose and remains subject to the confidentiality requirements set out in this Agreement. Any notes, summaries, analyses, extracts, working papers, or electronic files derived from the Confidential

Information shall also be returned or destroyed, except to the extent one archival copy is retained as permitted herein.

8. NO LICENCE OR OTHER RIGHTS

All Confidential Information remains the property of Discloser and no licence or any other rights to the Confidential Information are granted to Recipient under this Agreement. This Agreement does not obligate the Discloser to make any disclosure of Confidential Information to the Recipient or require the parties to enter into any business relationship or further agreement.

9. LIMITED WARRANTY & LIABILITY

Discloser warrants that it has the right to disclose the Confidential Information to Recipient. Discloser makes no other warranties in respect of the Confidential Information and provides all information "AS IS" without any express or implied warranty of any kind, including any warranty as to merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, accuracy, completeness, or violation of third party intellectual property rights. Neither party will be liable for any special, incidental, or consequential damages of any kind whatsoever resulting from the disclosure, use, or receipt of the Confidential Information, except that nothing in this section limits a party's right to seek equitable relief for breach of confidentiality obligations.

10. TERM

This Agreement and Recipient's obligation to keep Confidential Information confidential expires five (5) years after the Effective Date, except that any Trade Secret or information protected by law as a trade secret shall remain protected for so long as it retains such status under applicable law.
